ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

PICKARD-POUND-PICKARD

The Rollins boys are the undisputed crew champions of Florida. We read though that Miami has just purchased a couple of racing shells. It won't be long now.

The tennis team upheld the Rollins reputation on the courts last week at Ormond.

Intramural athletics at Rollins should be greatly encouraged by the student body, since they depend upon the student body alone for success.

This column has cracked about Rollins as a member of the S. I. A. A. with good intent. We hear objections. Let's have those familiar with the subject meet to discuss the question.

The two athletes left at Rollins from Coach Tallman's crack freshman basketball squad of two years ago were selected "Florida's all-state."

"Light Horse Herrick McConnell" and "Debonnair Bobby Cross" successfully defended their tilting title at the water regatta. Rollins still boasts of a couple of champs.

Gentlemen prefer blondes, but most gentlemen are particular about their blondes.

We hear Bassett's supremacy as favorite beau of Phi Omega has been undermined.

Antiques are Prexy's hobby. Most collectors confine their collections to inanimate objects. The live antiques at the exhibit although realistic enough, upon examination proved quite modern.

Antique objects make us wonder, they tickle our imagination. Antique ideas make us mad.

Carrie Chapman Catt stated she was unable to distinguish professor from student at Rollins. We know what she meant, but would an outsider?

If pointed remarks are objectionable in this column, we don't care to write it. One can't tickle men where they are not ticklish.

Antique Exposition Held At Art Studio

A colonial antique exhibit was held at the art studio, corner Fairbanks and Interlachen avenues, during the first part of this week.

Some of the picturesque features of the display were antique furniture, china, and glassware, samples, books, ornaments, and costumes. A bed curtain, depicting the battle of Gibraltar, and a Chippendale desk proved the most popular articles.

This was the first exhibit of its kind held in this community and proved unusually successful.

ROLLINS PLAYERS SELECT STATE ALL-STAR TEAM

Picking an All-Star team is a dangerous thing to do. Any newspaper or college weekly which attempts the problem expects to hear the usual "hue and cry" of criticism. We expect to have the entire state rise up in resentment over our selection, but for the sake of argument here they are:

1st Team 2nd Team
Ashman, Miami Center Perrine, Fla. Crabtree, Fla. Forward Veque, Fla. Goodell, Rollins Forward Spivey, So. McGuire, Miami Guard

Zoller, Rollins
Van Sickle, Fla. Forward

Freeman, Stetson
Ashman and Perrine were by far the two best centers in the state. Ashman is given the edge because of his performance throughout the entire season.

Crabtree was the out-standing forward of the year. He was one of the cleverest dribblers in the state. His shooting and passing was above the average. Goodell and Veque are practically on a par, in our estimation.

St. Andy Returns On The Stroke Of Midnight

True to tradition old Saint Andy put in his appearance last Friday night. At exactly twelve o'clock his whereabouts was announced to the group of students who waited in front of "Noack's Quick Lunch." Then came the mad dash to the fishpond in the center of the park where St. Andy lay communing with the goldfish.

Charlie Zohler, with several members of the finny tribe draped about his neck, emerged from the pool with the beloved Andy folded to his bosom.

A newly acquired coat of grease afforded little protection to Saint Andy from the host of freshmen and juniors who sought to "rossle" him from the sophs and seniors.

Fleet Confident Of Swimming Successes

Fleetwood Peeples thinks that the Rollins swimming outlook is good. Hilliard, Russell, Abbot, Goodell and Schnuck, all members of last year's team, will be available again this year. Supplemented by Tracy, Ebsen and Rice, new men, and probably a few yet-to-be-discovered flashes, the Tars should find themselves a formidable aggregation of fish.

Meets arranged with Southern, University of Miami and University of Florida, will throw the Tars into competition with such stars as Shields and Mercurio of the Miami institution, Murrell of Southern and Billy Buhner who is Florida's strongest bid for aquatic recognition. The first meet will probably take place about the middle of April.

Dr. Richard Burton

Dr. Burton Arrives For Series Of Lectures

Dr. Richard Burton, formerly of the University of Minnesota, arrived in Winter Park this week to hold a series of lectures under the auspices of the Alumni Association of Rollins College.

Dr. Burton, a distinguished author, has just completed a similar series of lectures at Columbia University. He will hold the next Tuesday evening lecture at the Congregational Church, and will close his series Sunday evening, March 18, at the Recreation Hall. Other dates will be announced later.

All lectures are to be open without charge to the students and faculty of Rollins College. Tickets may be secured at the office.

Frosh Trim Sophs In Second Game

Avenging a 7-7 tie, the freshman girls' basketball team, defeated the sophomore team in the last few minutes of play by a 13-9 score on Wednesday, February 29.

Two spurts of team work coming from the freshmen proved too much for the sophomores, who played a consistent game throughout.

The line-up was as follows:
Massey I.f. Lo Bean
Quick r.f. E. Morton
D. Wilson j.c. J. Chase
McMichael r.g. Race
I. Smith l.g. Lewter
Substitutions: G. Morton for Coley.

Girls' Physical Ed. Demonstration Monday

The physical education department for girls, under the direction of Miss Lucile Jackson, will give an interesting display of their achievements to the public Monday evening at 7:30 in the Rollins gymnasium.

NOVELTY WATER REGATTA ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

Rollins' first annual novelty water regatta, held last Tuesday on Lake Virginia, won enthusiastic applause. This event, which is particularly characteristic of Rollins is to be an annual affair. Admission was free, and the bleachers crowded. There were a number of out of town people up for the water sports. The winners of the afternoon's events were as follows:

It has been the policy of this paper to advocate the withdrawal of Rollins from S. I. A. A. This was because it was our opinion that if we were out of this Association Rollins would be able to play any member of the student body, who went out for football, on the team against other colleges until we had in a way got on our feet, athletically, again. We find that we were mistaken in thinking we could still play members of S. I. A. A. under such conditions. In case there should be others of the same opinion we quote the chief rules of the S. I. A. A. on this matter.

Article XI—Scholastic Games

"Football contests by members of this Association shall be had only with teams representing educational institutions, and no contests shall be had with high schools, academies, or similar institutions, without the consent and approval of the Executive Committee. This rule does not forbid games with freshman teams or second teams.

Article XII

"No teams of this Association shall play any college team resident in S. I. A. A. territory which is not a member of this Association, without the consent and approval of the Executive Committee.

Article XIII—(a) General Code

"No team, a member of the S. I. A. A. shall be permitted to have preliminary football practice prior to the first day of September or more than ten days prior to the opening of the college.

"No member of this Association is permitted to schedule games with colleges that do not conform with the code of rules adopted by this Association."

CREWS BECOME CHIEF

AGENTS OF PUBLICITY

With pictures of the Rollins crew appearing in newspaper Rotogravure sections throughout the country, and a newsreel company taking moving pictures of the crew in action, this sport under the able direction of Coach Chase, bids fair to equal any other single activity or innovation being undertaken by Rollins in making the college nationally known.

The two-hour conference plan of study is discussed almost exclusively in educational periodicals, and reaches a small minority. The unusually large number of famous authors who teach here is a matter of interest only to educators and those interested in creative writing—again a small minority. These news pictures of the shells possess great popular appeal, and reach a far greater number of people.

The exhibition race rowed at the Palm Beach Yacht Club Regatta on Washington's birthday made Rollins known to many hundreds of men of affairs and nationally known sportsmen.

Coach Chase, speaking at the annual Yacht Club dinner, at which the members of the crew were guests, urged the club officials to stage a rowing race each year as part of the regatta. This would be possible, he said, because Syracuse University has recently donated two shells to Miami University, an amateur rowing club is being started in Jacksonville, and other points in the state are considering taking up the sport. He expressed it as his belief that a race might be staged annually at Palm Beach.

K. E. KOMMENTS

An informal reception was given last Thursday evening at the Kappa Epsilon house on Chase ave. for Miss Overton and Mrs. Flannery, of Miami. The members gave a delightful impromptu program. Elizabeth Atkinson sang several solos; Evelyn Green recited; Anne Hathaway gave an interpretation; and Barnelia Woodward played a number of piano selections. Hot chocolate and wafers were served late in the evening. Those present were: Miss Overton, Mrs. Flannery, Mrs. Clinton Scollard, Mrs. H. F. Harris, Mrs. Hiram Powers, Mrs. U. G. McQueen, Mrs. B. A. Burks, Mrs. F. H. Enwright, the Misses Elizabeth Gates and Doris Currier, and the active chapter.

Miss Overton and Mrs. Flannery were guests of Mrs. Raymond Green during their visit in Winter Park.

We are glad to announce that Mrs. Frederic Cady is convalescing at the Orange General hospital, after an operation.

There were all the traditional "boxes from home" for Ginny Mitchell on her birthday, last Friday. May they always be as exciting!

SIGMA PHI SLIVERS

Sigma Phi wishes to announce as pledge Miss Virginia Little of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Marge McMichael proudly announces the first prize she ever won, that of the best disguised girl at the Soph. dance Saturday night.

Dorothy Connor from Lake Gem was dinner guest of "Skipper" Hall Sunday and visited us in the afternoon.

Mary V. has been having a host of friends from West Virginia visiting her lately. We wonder what's wrong up there.

Saturday night a picnic was held somewhere and much merriment and good food was enjoyed by Poca James, Mary Hall, Damaris Wilson and Louise Holland.

Sunday Lake Dora was rudely disturbed by fishermen, and songsters who freed ducks from the turtle's jaws, returned the ensnared fishes to their happy homes and did no great damage except eat pounds of steak, heads of lettuces, and ripple the calm waters with candy wrappers. These marauders were Captain Colado and crew, Dickie Dickson, Maxwell McRoberts, Louise Holland, Ginny and Big Fish, Gladys and Mark.

We wish to deny any charges, if any such should be brought against us, for having anything to do with the Dinky wreck last Saturday afternoon. They say some cross ties were missing, but we happen to be adequately stocked with wood at this time and plead not guilty. May the conspirators be caught and punished.

PHI OMEGA

Phi Omega sorority wishes to announce as pledges: Lucy Baker of Springfield, Illinois, and Jewel Lewter of Orlando, Florida.

This meeting the last train is getting to be a habit. The gang turned out Tuesday morning to meet "H" and "Lu" who had returned home for the week-end, had an auto accident, and everything.

Friday night we all went skating at the Coliseum and made the usual graceful though painful mistakes. They say that pride goeth before a fall. If this be true, we're a humble bunch. Also, please refrain from asking Hansen what happened to her knee. You see, she's touchy on that particular place.

Mrs. Newby's camp again was the scene of a rough, tough bunch of hoodlums over the week-end. Enough said!

Those of us who stayed home Saturday and Sunday didn't waste any time, however. After buying Dot a white coat Saturday night—and what we mean, it actually is some coat—we returned to the house for a midnight feed of coffee, toasted bacon and cheese sandwiches, and fudge. Even that combination didn't prevent us from going canoeing the next morning. That is, some of us did, but we were also well represented at church.

Society note: Miss Ellen Emerson of Crescent City and points north visited in this city at the suite of her sister, Miss Dorothy Emerson of Cloverleaf. She has become a staunch admirer of Rollins College, and expects to enroll in the near future. Hurry up, Ellen. Only seven more years to go!

Have you all visited the exhibition of antiques yet? We have a very keen interest in the affair, having helped to put it over in several ways; i. e., did you notice the colonial lady, aged 21 or thereabouts? She was donated by the Phi Omega sorority and is guaranteed to be a genuine article.

ALPHA OMEGA

The sorority wishes to announce as active members Margaret Brown, Hazel Coley, Dorothy Hartridge, Katherine Kimball, and Viola Wilson.

Monday evening Charley and Mrs. Noack and Ann Macon called on us. Charley was good sport and didn't appear a bit daunted by the bevy of young women with which he found himself surrounded.

Ruth and Flora were left to "rule the roast" last week and except for Ellen who spent the night after the dance Saturday. Margaret and Nadine had gone to Daytona, Gerry and Ginny to Howey, and Gene and Tiny to Winter Haven where they visited Amelia McAlister.

Last week Amelia sent us a box containing everything from dresser scarfs to cookies. Having visited us so recently she evidently appreciates our needs.

MRS. HAGGERTY GIVES HOUSE MOTHER'S PARTY

Monday evening the house mothers of the sororities and fraternities shifted their burdened shoulders free from worry for a few hours and enjoyed a rollicking picnic at Mrs. Haggerty's home on Sylvan Lake.

Supper was served on the porch. Cold chicken, hot rolls, potato salad, olives, cake piled high and higher with whipped cream, tea and other delectables appeased the appetites. Bridge was indulged in later until the mothers reluctantly noted the hour and were all excused to go home and put their neglected children to bed. "It is a hard task but is lightened by such delightful off hours," perhaps was said by Mrs. Enwright, Mrs. Race, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Gage, Miss Burkhart. The guests were Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Cass.

SECOND STAR—"Sure, so long as the consideration isn't that I give up my Chesterfields!"

SOPH MASQUERADE BALL PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Last Saturday night the annual Masque Dance of the class of '30 was given at the Aloma Country Club. At nine o'clock sharp Pierrot and Pierrette, cowboys, Japanese, sheiks, Dutch girls, troubadors, a doll, Spaniards, colonial dames, toughs, a Scotchman, courtiers, Mexicans, pages, a 'retired' musician, a Russian noblewoman, Turks, clowns, Egyptians, two artists in smocks, period ladies, apaches, faculty and even Old Nick himself gathered for a gay evening. Every one unmasked at eleven, after the Grand March. At the end of the intermission prizes were awarded Professor and Mrs. Carlson, for the best couple; Billie Conklin, for the cleverest girl; Bob Harper, for the cleverest boy; and Marjorie McMichael and Rodney Lehman for the two who were unrecognized by eleven o'clock. A negro orchestra furnished the music and gave several specialty numbers during the evening. The sophomores are living up to their freshman reputation as entertainers.

KAPPA PHI SIGMA

Last Friday evening Kappa Phi Sigma had one of the times of its young life when it entertained Col. Sanborn of Mount Dora as its overnight guest. The Colonel has given Rollins some of his stories in chapel the last two years, but those were only samples of his repertoire. He told us of the death of Colonel William Cody, one of his personal friends, and of a thrilling duel between Cody and Chief Yellow Hand of the Sioux.

One of the biggest hits of the evening came when we indulged in a mess of chili con carne (made and served a la Mexique). A warm time was had by everyone including Mehitabel, who was not quite up to usual form after refreshments.

The Colonel came over with many valuable pieces for the Antique Exhibit held in the studio.

The kindest thing God ever made,
His hand of very healing laid
Upon a fevered world, is shade.
—Theodosia Barrison.

PI PHI GIVE BRIDGE HONORING SIGMA PHI

Orlando alumni of Pi Beta Phi entertained the local chapter of Sigma Phi with a St. Patrick's bridge at the Latchstring Tuesday afternoon from three to five.

There were nine tables ready for bridge set in the festive little place. After the struggle of hearts over spades, Helen Massey was awarded a pair of chiffon hose for holding high score. Evelyn Dodge was consoled with a box of stationery.

During the social time following refreshments of molded fruit salad, nut bread sandwiches, cakes, cinnamon and cheese toast and tea were served.

PHI OMEGA BENEFIT BRIDGE

CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT
ADDRESSES STUDENTS

President Holt presented Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt to an appreciative audience in chapel Wednesday morning.

From the students' viewpoint she was an ideal chapel speaker. She had wit. She had humor. She slipped her message to us unawares and we liked it.

"I was asked to write an article on what influences had affected my life," she said. "Or what I thought arose in environment to put our feet in certain tracks." Here the assembled minds waited to hear the inside story of a great life. But no, she told us she was shocked to discover that the influences that molded were all from the generations past. We were a new generation springing up with no actual beginning to finish no definite job but to carry on and start anew. The story illustrating this point was excellent. She threw out the challenge that we must make things happen, and ended with "I haven't given you any advice as I hope you've noticed. I've only told you what's going to happen to you."

SPECIALS OUTPLAY
SECOND FROSH TEAM

Following the freshmen-sophomore game the specials defeated a second freshman team.

This scrap was marked by loose handling of the ball on both sides, although the two special forwards, Holland and Huttig, knew where to find the basket.

The line-up was as follows:

Huttig	r.f.	Bremner
Holland	l.f.	V. Wilson
Moyer	j.c.	Douglas
Gary	r.g.	Bullock
Fisher	l.g.	Krause
Wilkinson	s.c.	Osborne

Substitutions: Osborne for Templeton, Frosh.

Dickson for Gary, Specials.
Referee: Blanche Gallagher.

FRENCH CLUB TO PRESENT
"THE TWO DEAF MEN"

The Rollins Chapter of l'Alliance Francais will present a one-act play, "Les Deux Sourds," in the Parish house at eight o'clock next Thursday evening.

The play is full of humor, dealing with the attempts of a deaf man to obtain another deaf man for his daughter's hand in marriage.

Beatrice Jones and Richard Hayward have the roles of the daughter and her lover.

All members are urged to attend the business meeting at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to the play.

DR. EMILIE WAATS McVEA
ADDRESSES R. L. S.

Dr. Emilie Watts McVea talked on "The Modern Trends of Literature" before the Rollins Literary Society Friday night, March 2. Miss McVea stressed the popularizing of scientific, sociological, biographical, and pioneering books. The speaker discussed "The Microbe Hunters," a great server of mankind, "The Family Tree," influential in discouraging hasty marriages, Will Durant's "History of Philosophy," a most fascinating biography, "We," "The Constant Nymph," colored with modern pessimistic disillusionment, various detective stories and a pioneer book, "Giants in the Earth."

Plans for the editing of a book to which all members of the R. L. S. would contribute were definitely discussed in the business meeting.

SPEAKERS OF THE WEEK

Wednesday, February 29

Dr. Edward Dwight Eaton spoke on the preparation of young people for life. He numerated two characteristics that he considered essential in a pleasing personality. The first is courtesy which should be acquired because it recognizes the worth of another's individuality. The second is patience, because patience more than talent insures success. He summed up his talk by saying that life counts with plusses, since anyone can live an average life.

Friday, March 2

The Sociology class presented a pertinent and helpful play which was cleverly acted by Dean Sprague, Frank Abbot, Annie Campbell, Marcella Halper, D. B. McKay, Jr., and Bob Boney.

Monday, March 5

Glen Sevin Swiggett gave a talk on inter-American relations. He believes that we should increase our information about the Latin-American countries because we have large sums of money invested there, and because there lies the field of our political policy.

PROF. GROVER TO ADDRESS
PROGRESSIVE ED. ASSN.

Professor Edwin O. Grover left for New York City Wednesday to attend the annual convention of the Progressive Education Association.

On Friday, March 9, the convention will hold a banquet at the Hotel Commodore where speakers of national repute in educational circles will deliver addresses. Among them are Dr. McCracken, President of Vassar College, and Dr. Arthur Morgan, President of Antioch College. From 1200 to 2000 guests are expected to be present.

Mr. Grover will speak at this time on "The Rollins Conference Plan in Action." This address will place Rollins College and her improved plan of college study before the foremost educators of the country. It will widen the circle of people interested in the success of Rollins and will give her a national-wide reputation.

STATE ALL-STAR TEAM

tion. Both men are fast, heady players. We give Goodell the edge on account of more accuracy in shooting. Spivey, of Southern, is placed at the other forward position.

McGuire is one of fastest basketball men in the state. His floor work and aggressiveness are enough to place him as running guard. With Van Sickle to back him up we believe this pair of guards to be superior to any others. Zoller and Freeman, however, are not far behind the first two. It is possible that they would out-score McGuire and Van Sickle, but this is about the only quality in which they would excel. Zoller was seriously considered for a first team berth but was kept off on account of personals.

This team has been picked impartially, without regard to ability, sex, race, color, or previous condition of servitude. We suggest that a benefit game be arranged between these two teams. Considering the number of schools represented, the state militia should officiate.

LITTLEFIELD AND PICKARD

ST. ANDY RETURNS ON THE STROKE OF MIDNIGHT

Over at one side Buddy Goodell was jumping up frantically trying to catch Dave Schnuck around the knees. On all sides boys were trying to tie each other into knots. The sophomores and seniors held their own for a short time, but the first year men had them outnumbered.

St. Andy after being mauled about considerably was captured by the freshmen and juniors and carried away in a car. One of the sophomores managed to swing on the running board as the car shot forward, but he was to regret this action a few seconds later. As the car took a fast corner a large "street closed" sign was directly in the path of the auto. It was smashed squarely in the center. The boy who was standing on the side was struck by a flying board and knocked almost unconscious.

The getaway was perfect and St. Andrew is again in hiding ready to sally forth in another blaze of grease and glory.
